

FONCY Website Report 2009

Having launched the website in January 2003, we are now approaching our 7th Anniversary.

In today's terms the website lacks a modern "look and feel" but as time remains scarce to address this issue we have generally continued with our tried and trusted formula, maintaining an informative and up-to-date website content.

John Landamore and Rob Maynard do sterling work as our reporter team at home and away and recently we have been able to add match action photos from Richard Phillips to those that John Landamore provides. My thanks go to these and all other contributors and of course our website sponsors W.J. Hart & Sons for their continued support.

Our average daily visits continue to range between 250 and 300 visits per day during the season.

Finally, living in Germany, one of the most enjoyable parts of my "job" is joining the Academy trips abroad to report on them – and help out where I can. This summer I joined Ricky Martin and the Under-18 squad at their tournament in Holland and my thanks go to Ricky Martin and his coaching team for making me feel so welcome.

For 2010 I look forward to continuing this enjoyable hobby and the contact that it brings for a Norwich fan abroad.
